Government Libraries

Federal Depository Libraries

The Washington State Library became a Federal Regional Depository Library on May 10, 1965. Since that time the library has received all federal publications distributed by the Government Printing Office's Federal Depository Library Program. The State Library is the Regional Depository Library for Washington and Alaska.

There are a total of 29 additional Depository Libraries in Washington and Alaska. These Depository Libraries choose the GPO distributed publications they will receive and retain in their collections. The documents must then be retained for at least five years.

Washington State Depository Libraries

Washington State Depository libraries are designated libraries, located throughout the state, that receive copies of state publications distributed through the State Publications Distribution Center located at the State Library. The Washington State Library serves as the State Regional Depository Library and keeps state publications permanently.

Full depository libraries keep depository copies for a minimum of five years, while partial depository libraries keep depository copies for a minimum of two years.
